TUITION REIMBURSEMENT PROGRAM

If you were given the opportunity to further your education while still being able to work, would you? And what if you had up to $5000 available for your education costs per year?

DSRSD takes pride in being able to provide employees with this exciting opportunity through the District's Education (Tuition) Reimbursement Program! The District recognizes that an educated workforce is a valuable asset to the employer in achieving the organization's goals and objectives in addition to promoting its employee's limitless personal growth.

The tuition cost for California State University-East Bay ranges from $6,995 for undergraduate programs and $8,249 for graduate programs per year.

By utilizing the District's reimbursement program here is what you could save.

California State University-East Bay Tuition Costs with DSRSD Education Reimbursement

	Average Costs Per Year	DSRSD Reimbursement	Total Per Year
Undergraduate Program	$6,995	$5000	$1,995
Graduate Program	$8,249	$5000	$3,249

Provides example of program benefits

Hear from one of your fellow employees and learn what this program has done for him.

"In early 2015 I was accepted to Santa Clara University's Information Systems Master of Science program. Having saved for initial expenses and books, I looked to DSRSD for tuition assistance. After inquiring with human resources, I was pleased to learn that there were many options for financial aid that the District offered. Those options included loans through deferred compensation in addition to educational reimbursement."

"The educational reimbursement program stipends of over five thousand dollars per year greatly
